

TO WAIT FOR DETAILS

The Debi Commission Postpones Action by Request of the New York Committee.

THE NORFOLK FERRY BILL.

The Roads Committee Agree to Report It Favorably--Important Measures to Be Considered After the Holidays.

The State Debt Commission met in the Governor's office yesterday morning pursuant to adjournment. His Excellency had before the members two telegrams from Captain Hugh B. Garden to Colonel W. W. Gordon, counsel for the O'Connell Committee. Both were dated the 18th.

The first telegram simply said: "London accepts our proposition." The other was as follows:

"At a meeting of committee just adjourned (4:30 P. M.) it was deemed best to obtain complete details before going to Richmond, but I am instructed to notify the Virginia Commission officially that the recommendation of the Bondholders' Committee is approved by the London advisers and accepted by a large majority of the bondholders. I am further instructed to request that no action be taken by the commission until those details are received. Please convey this to Governor McKinney."

The meeting of the commission yesterday was for the purpose of reviewing Mr. Dabney's report and taking steps for the immediate transmission of that report and the text of the agreement to the General Assembly, it being considered that failure to do this before the first of January might involve some complication and give rise to a question whether or not the State had complied to the letter with some of the terms of negotiations had previous to the reaching of an agreement between the O'Connell Committee and the commission.

The acceptance of the agreement by the bondholders, however, disappointed all danger of this, and in compliance with the request in Captain Garden's telegram to Colonel Gordon it was decided in the commission to take no further action on the details until they have been received. In the meantime Mr. Dabney's report, which is said to be a very able and interesting document, will be thoroughly reviewed so that it and the other papers can be sent to the General Assembly as soon as practicable after the first of the year.

The first lively fight in the General Assembly since the session began took place in the Senate yesterday. It was a family fight over the appointment bill, which was finally passed as it came from the committee. In fact, it was a close Democratic contest, and the result was a tie in the body not even being there to witness it. Indeed, that gentleman has not "shown up" this session. The details of the conflict and how it killed and wounded are given in our regular Senate report. After the battle everything was as calm and sunny as a May morning.

In the House the appointment bill went through like a flash, owing, perhaps, to the fact that, as will be seen from the House proceedings, the body was slightly charged with electricity.

Lightning the Capitol. A meeting of the Committee on Public Property was held yesterday afternoon to consider the resolution of Mr. Stratton, which provides for the substitution of gas for electricity in lighting the Capitol building. The committee had previously reported the resolution favorably, but at the request of some of their members it was recommended to them.

After a short discussion it was decided to postpone further consideration of the matter until after the Christmas holidays. The electric company was notified that at the expiration of their contract, which terminates February 1st, they would have to submit new proposals.

The consideration of this subject by the committee is the result of an agitation of the question of taking the electric lights out of the Capitol, which was started some time ago by Capitol officers who do not consider the system of lighting safe. At the meeting of the committee held Friday afternoon testimony was heard pro and con as to the safety of electric lighting. The Norfolk Ferry Bill to be reported favorably.

morning and heard arguments for and against the measure by interested parties. Another meeting was held at the Exchange Hotel in the afternoon, and according to the statement of one of the committee-men, all of Norfolk, Portsmouth, and Norfolk county were present.

There was a lively discussion over the measure and the session of the committee was an exceedingly exciting one. After all outside parties had been given a full opportunity to express their views upon the question the committee had a private conference and decided to report favorably upon the bill, with several slight amendments.

The committee agreed upon two amendments to be submitted. One of these requires the ferry to be in operation in two years and the other provides that the same number of trips per day shall be made by this company as is now required of those operating the present ferry.

At the morning session yesterday City Attorney Happer, of Portsmouth, spoke in opposition to the bill, and Colonel Tazewell, of Norfolk, in support of it. The latter advocated the measure.

In the afternoon Commonwealth's Attorney Marshall, of Norfolk county, spoke in favor of the bill, and Mr. George McIntosh, of Portsmouth, in opposition to it. Delegates Cooke and Fentress also made brief addresses, the former in favor and the latter in opposition to the new charter.

THE RAILROAD COMMISSION BILL. Very little was said yesterday about the railroad bill which was introduced last week, however, that it will not meet with sufficient opposition in the House to prevent its passing that body. It is expected, however, that it has heretofore been stated, that it will find more opposition in the Senate. The fight in the upper branch will probably be conducted on order lines.

THE CAUCUS MONDAY NIGHT. The caucus Monday night will dispose of the case of the Gloucester county judge, the candidates for which are General William B. Taliaferro and Mr. Harrison Seawell. A vacancy exists in the Gloucester bench, which is being filled by assignment.

The election of judges for Gloucester, Clarke, and Warren will comprise the last of the Gloucester county judge, the candidates for which are General William B. Taliaferro and Mr. Harrison Seawell. A vacancy exists in the Gloucester bench, which is being filled by assignment.

MEASURES SET TO CONSIDER. The passage of the appointment bill and the election of county judges completes the work that was required under the Constitution to be done before the first of January, and the day matter is now regarded as only a question of detail. The three most important measures to come up are the railroad bill, the oyster problem, and the report of the Committee on Reduction of Criminal Expenses.

The latter, with the academy enacting bills, will, it is thought, be adopted, but a regular rough, roll, and tumble encounter is expected when the oyster problem comes up, and it may be reckoned as pretty certain that some of the members will not exercise that faculty which Captain Partridge attributed to the oyster--the faculty of "keepin' his mouth shut." Unless the matter is managed pretty well in committee a division of eloquence will sweep up from the mountains, and it is impossible to tell what legislation is going to be upleaved at the result.

The appointment for members of Congress will also be made after the holidays. So far very little has been said about the matter in legislative circles.

In Honor of Mrs. Loris. One of the most charming light events of the season, though of an entirely informal character, was an entertainment given by Mrs. George Stevens at her residence on Floyd avenue on last Wednesday evening in honor of her friend, Mrs. J. W. Loris, of Logansport, Ind. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. C. W. P. Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. McGrunder, Doctor and Mrs. J. M. Brannock, and Captain Frank Cunningham.

The prominent feature of the evening was the delightful music, which was indeed a rare treat. Captain Frank Cunningham sang some of his sweetest songs and duets, while Mrs. Loris on the piano and Mrs. Stevens on the harp and the cello, of whom are performers of rare excellence, delighted every one. Mrs. Hewitt (nee Brock), who also plays charmingly on the piano and has an exquisite alto voice, contributed her share to the entertainment of the evening.

At 11 o'clock an elegant supper, consisting of choice delicacies and rare wines, was served.

WHAT THE MILITARY ARE DOING. Special Activity Among the Cavalry and Artillery Branches.

The Hanover Troop will hold a meeting at the court-house to-morrow, and the company will be reorganized, as the terms of service of many of the men have expired. It is expected that most of them will re-enlist.

Reports from the various troops in the first regiment of cavalry indicate that the command is in a very good condition. A large number of signatures have been obtained for the new troop to be organized in this city, and in a week or ten days the petition asking permission of the Governor to establish the company will be presented. There is of course a certain amount of official action to be taken which will prevent the scheme from being accomplished sooner.

Colonel Stern and Major Simons visited Portsmouth a few days ago to muster in a new battery of artillery, which has recently been started there. The name of the new organization, which has forty-eight uniformed men, is the Grimes battery.

Captain George W. McDonald is commander of the new company, which has four guns.

Colonel Henry C. Jones, of the First regiment of infantry, has issued orders that no military duties need be performed from December 22d to January 4th.

Debate at the Y. M. C. A. The members of the Randolph Literary Society had an interesting debate at the Young Men's Association last night. The question for discussion was, "Resolved, that a lawyer is justifiable in defending a criminal whom he knows to be guilty."

Messrs. T. W. Gardner, G. Hall, C. M. Wallace, and William Wagner represented the affirmative, while Messrs. J. W. Gort, Colonel Stern, and Frank Gray spoke for the negative.

It was decided to have another debate next Saturday night.
